Should you experience any difficulties in tracking a title, please let us know at info@fineprintpress.com.

To the Reader:

This applies to finding many books that may not be readily available. 50,000+ books are published each year, and few bookstores can stock more than a small percentage of those. It's difficult for individual bookstores to stay abreast of titles from independent publishers...so you may have to be persistent to find the books you're looking for. Just ask...don't be shy!

Also, if you like these books, we would very much appreciate you asking your local bookseller to add them to their shelves.
